USP
Founded by artists Samuel Levack and Jennifer Lewandowski in February 2011 as an art project in itself, this small shop-front space in East London exhibits work by artists without representation. The work on show is intentionally varied, but often with a conceptual emphasis and a nod to pop media culture. Take Siân Hislop's paintings of screen romance, or Jon Nash's Hudson River Google map photographic work.

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT Tai Shani, Empire and Daughter, 2010, Siân Hislop, Le Baiser, 2011, Jon Nash, You Know You're Not The First, 2011.
